— SRS Genetics —

Welcome to our Annual Female Production Sale. We have seen a much-needed increase in calf prices this year, while it may not keep pace with inflation, gas and parts prices, and the cost of equipment, it certainly helps. Yet, with the U.S. cow herd inventory continuing to decline (almost the lowest in 50 years) tightening feed supplies and an all-time high demand for beef; the upside in the cow/calf industry looks positive. If possible, in your operation, now is a great time to increase inventory.

We appreciate your consideration of SRS cattle as your source of replacement females. We have an extremely nice set of females to offer. Expect these working females to bring home heavy calves. The bottom 40% of our male calves weighed 765 lbs. with no creep, when shipped October 25th. The bottom 20% of the heifer mates weighed 680 lbs with no creep.

We want to emphasize that these are not cull cows; this is a female production sale. We bring in ninety head of replacement bred heifers every year. With a 98% pregnancy rate on all our females we must sell eighty cows every year. The cows in this offering are the top of those cows.

This fancy set of bred heifers we are offering have the genetics behind them to make profitable and productive cows. These heifers are embryos, sisters to sale bulls, and daughters of time-tested cows.

SRS cattle are bred for fertility. Over the last seven years, of the replacement heifers retained, we have had a 98% breed up. These heifers are never fed concentrates and are wintered on pasture and long stem hay. When it comes down to turning a profit in the cattle business, it is more important than ever to buy high-quality genetics to improve your herd for more value and profit in top quality cattle.

The entire SRS cow herd was tested negative for Johnes Disease in 2020. We have screened the cow herd every year since with no positives. We also test any animals brought into the herd.

SRS genetics will excel in your environment. These females should be problem-free with the stringent criteria we place on udders, feet, and disposition. These cows have been bred and designed to go out and work for you. We look forward to visiting with you on sale day.
